Let your imagination run wild

I am Lynda Bannister, daughter of the late Constance Bannister Baby Photographer and owner of the Constance Bannister Collection. I have been thoughtfully rebranding the unique works of the Collection by digitally recreating my mother's photographs & art to bring them back to life for today's market.

Constance Bannister (1913-2005) was a famous American photographer and artist who specialized in baby portrait photography throughout the 1940s, 50s, and 60s. As a young girl, she began her career as an artist and soon found photography to be her real passion.

In the 1980's to the 2000's she retired to her art studio. The art and photography is all original and by Constance Bannister. This is a sampling of what we have discovered. This collection has never been seen. I hope you enjoy them as much as I have enjoyed creating them for your commercial use. These images will not be found anywhere.
